MUDA 50:50 sites allotment scam

ED issues notices to CM's wife, Urban Dev. Minister

Advocates file separate petitions in HC seeking stay on ED notices

Bengaluru, Jan. 27 (KMS& BCT)- In a fresh development in the Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MUDA) 50:50 sites allotment scam, the Enforcement Directorate (ED), Bengaluru Zonal Office, has issued notices to Chief Minister Siddaramaiah's wife B.M. Parvathi and Urban Development Minister Byrathi Suresh.

The notices have been issued in connection with its investigation into the site scam in which Siddaramaiah is the prime accused. In October 2024, ED launched an investigation into the case also involving Parvathi's brother B.M. Mallikarjunaswamy and land-owner J. Devaraju.

Following the receipt of notices, Parvathi and Byrathi Suresh filed two separate petitions this morning in Dharwad Single Judge Bench of High Court (HC) seeking a stay on the notices.

Sources told Star of Mysore that the advocates representing Parvathi and Byrathi Suresh have filed the petitions and the High Court is yet to decide on the hearings. Senior advocate Vikram Huilagol requested the Bench for an urgent hearing.

Sources said, ED notices to Parvathi and Byrathi Suresh asks them to appear for questioning on Monday (Jan. 27) and Tuesday (Jan.28).

While Parvathi has been asked to clarify Siddaramaiah's role and influence in securing 14 sites in Vijayanagar Third and Fourth Stages in exchange for her 3.16-acre land at Kesare, Byrathi Suresh has been asked to answer questions on lapses committed by the Urban Development Department in the allotment and the alleged cover-up of the scam as it involves the CM.

Minister Byrathi Suresh is also under scrutiny for allegedly ferrying files related to site allotments to Parvathi.

The ED moves so far

In December 2024, the ED wrote to the Lokayukta, alleging widespread corruption and money laundering linked to illegal land allotments under MUDA, amounting to over Rs. 700 crore in market value.

(See NOTICES on page 7)

Lokayukta Police submits final report to High Court

Bengaluru, Jan. 27 (KMS& BCT)- The Mysuru Lokayukta Police have submitted their final report on the investigation into alleged corruption in the MUDA 50:50 sites allotment case involving Chief Minister Siddaramaiah, his family and others.

The report was submitted to the Karnataka High Court's Dharwad Bench, led by Justice M. Nagaprasanna, in a sealed cover this morning by Lokayukta Superintendent of Police (SP) T.J. Udesh.

It is alleged that Siddaramaiah's wife B.M. Parvathi was allotted 14 prime sites in Vijayanagar under the controversial 50:50 ratio in exchange for 3.16 acres of land in Kesare under Survey Number 464, which MUDA acquired to form the Devanur Layout and Siddaramaiah influenced MUDA officials to secure these allotments for his wife.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

BROADCAST YOUR PRAYER THROUGH CALM MENTAL MICROPHONE: Your success in life depends not only upon your natural ability; it depends also upon your determination to grasp opportunities presented to you. Opportunities in life come by creation, not by chance. They are created by you, either now or in the recent or distant past. Since you have earned them, use them to the best advantage.

Your thoughts will inevitably bring you either to failure or to success — according to which thought is the strongest.

Therefore, you must thoroughly believe in your own plans, use your talents to carry them out, and be receptive so that God can work through you.

Many people believe they should pity themselves and that it will bring a little relief. But self-pity is an addiction like opium. Accuse no one, not even yourself. Blame and accusation won't erase what has been done. Reconcile yourself to what is, and to what needs to be done about it. You can reshape every karma, provided that from today onward you live by soul consciousness.

You are stronger than your tests. If you do not realise it now, you will have to realise it eventually. God gave you willpower, concentration, reason and common sense so that you can help yourself. Never allow your mind to entertain thoughts of illness or limitation, and you will see your body change for the better. Mind is the power that is creating your body, and if your mind is weak, the body becomes weak. Don't grieve or worry about anything. No matter what happens, you must be absolutely free in your mind.

Sincere words or affirmations repeated feelingly and willingly are sure to move the omnipresent cosmic vibratory force and render you aid in difficulty. Appeal to that Force with infinite confidence, casting out all doubt. In the early morning and before going to bed you must make contact with God in order to succeed.

Your soul's message cannot reach the Divine through your mental microphone if the hammers of restlessness break it. Only through the practice of meditation are you able to feel peace. Increasing peace, or bliss, is the surest proof of Almighty's contact and response.

Just as you cannot receive an answer by calling someone on the phone and then running away, so also you must not pray once and run away, but continuously broadcast your prayer to God through your calm mental microphone.

Smelly corpse flower attracts visitors

New York: One by one, visitors to the Brooklyn Botanic Garden pulled out their phones snap pictures of the rare blooming plant before leaning in to brave a whiff of its infamously putrid scent, which resembles that of rotting flesh.

"It smells like feet, cheese and rotten meat. It just smelled like the worst possible combination of smells," Elijah Blades said.

The rare Amorphophallus gigas — a relative of the Amorphophallus titanum, commonly known as the corpse flower — has bloomed for the first time since arriving in Brooklyn in 2018. Native to Sumatra, the plant is known for its height and carrion scent, which it uses to attract pollinators.

It has hundreds of flowers, both male and female, inside the bloom, and it can take years between blooming events, said gardener, who first noticed the cluster of flowers, around New Year's Eve. Bloom will last only a few days before it collapses.

Cat left on a plane becomes a frequent flyer

New Zealand: A Maine coon cat named Mittens became an accidental jetsetter this month when her cage was overlooked in a plane cargo hold and she made three trips in 24 hours between New Zealand and Australia.

Mittens, 8, was booked for one-way travel with her family from Christchurch, New Zealand to their new home in Melbourne, Australia on Jan. 13. But owner Margo Neas said that as she waited for Mittens to be unloaded from the plane's freight area, three hours passed with no sign of cat.

It was then that ground staff told Neas the plane had returned to New Zealand — with Mittens still on board. The return trip involves about 7.5 hours in the air. Neas said, "How can this happen? Oh my God."

On transparency and sub-urban bus stand

Stakeholders ignored

Sir,

During my annual visit to Mysuru over the Christmas break, I had the pleasure of reading SOM every evening. In a gap of 10 days, I read 3 articles concerning the proposed bus terminal at Bannimantap, written by eminent Mysureans, listed here:

1. 'Need to send DPR back to the Drawing Board' by Bhamy V. Shenoy.

2. 'A brand new bus stand in a very wrong new place' by Dr. K. Javeed Nayeem.

3. 'Desi Problems Need Desi Solutions' by Chandra Prakash.

I gather the dominant theme is the lack of transparency shown by the government authorities in its decision-making.

These are well-articulated opinion pieces that pose relevant questions: How does the bus stand move account for a growing Mysuru ? What does the traffic modelling say ? What are the impacts on Mysuru's tourism ?

It's clear that stakeholder consultation is lacking.

Such concerns about government decision-making are not limited to Mysuru. A recent example from Bengaluru highlights similar issues.

A citizen campaigner Rajkumar Dugar pointed out in his review (on X) of BBMP's ambitious North-South tunnel road corridor project. The Detailed Project Report (DPR) of the Bengaluru's project had references to Maharashtra's "Nashik City to Malegaon" project in the report. It's appalling that a citizen has noticed the mistakes in the draft report supposed to be vetted by the authorities.

This is the power of seeking different opinions and consultations. Mistakes can be reviewed together. Unfortunately in the case of the proposed bus stand in Bannimantap, it appears that stakeholder consultations were not extensive and exhaustive.

Transparency is a hallmark of good governance. In a heritage city like Mysuru, it is a necessity. Every decision impacts the city's heritage and cultural fabric. The government must present the facts and explain its decisions. It should also seek the wisdom of collective voices. Without this, the proposed bus terminal could alter the city's identity forever.

In her address, Chaithra who owed her success to the hard-work of her coach Manjunath, said, he encouraged her at all level and so also the fellow villagers. Every sportsperson is capable enough to achieve and several of my seniors and juniors in the game have also encouraged me in sports.

"I am specially grateful to Kanakapura Degula Mutt, where I had my primary and high school education," said Chaithra, who shared her dream to play in Asian Games and Olympics in the future.

"My parents are also the reason behind my achievement, due to whose constant support I have reached this position in my life. If not my coach Manjunath, I wouldn't have made any achievement. Hence I owe my success to both my parents and coach," said Chaithra, on an emotional note.

Mysuru, Jan. 27 (BLU&DM)- An impressive march-past and cultural programmes marked the 76th Republic Day celebrations organised by the District Administration at Bannimantap Torch-light Parade Grounds in the city yesterday.

Addressing the gathering after unfurling the National Flag and receiving the Guard of Honour presented by the armed Police, District Dr. H.C. Mahadevappa underlined the importance of abiding by the Constitutional norms in the present times.

He maintained that it is only by adhering to the Constitutional norms that the values of equality, freedom and brotherhood, enshrined in the Constitution, become meaningful.

He said that the State Government under Chief Minister Siddaramaiah had also taken up the task of creating greater awareness of the Constitutional values among School and College students and the general public through mass reading of the Preamble of the Constitution and taking a vow to abide by it.

Highlighting the achievements of the State Government and its guarantee schemes, he said under the MGNREGA scheme, approval was given to 39,674 works in rural areas, aiming to ensure 100 days of job guarantee and address poverty issues.

He also underlined the salient features of Puneeth Rajkumar Hrudaya Jyothi Scheme, which provides free cardiac care to underprivileged patients and the Jan Man Scheme, under which more than 25,000 vulnerable tribals were screened during free health check-up camps.

The Minister noted that the State Government is spending Rs.121.16 crore for the development of Crematoriums, to build Dr. B.R. Ambedkar and Babu Jagjivan Ram Bhavans and Pragathi Colonies in the district. The second phase of works on Dr. Ambedkar Bhavan coming up in the heart of the city will be taken up soon at a cost of Rs.27 crore, he added.

Dr. Mahadevappa praised the Kho Kho World Cup star player B. Chaithra of Kuruburu in T. Narasipur taluk, saying that she not only helped India win the inaugural World Cup against Nepal, but also made the District and the State proud with her outstanding performance.

Families of organ donors honoured

It was an emotional yet a moment of pride and inspiration during the Republic Day celebrations, as the families of four organ donors were felicitated.

The families of G. Mahadevaswamy (34), Teju Bai (56), C.R. Thotappa (59) and R. Vasundhara (65) were honoured by District Minister.

To recognise such families and express gratitude, the State Government had passed an order on Mar. 1, 2024 to present the Appreciation Certificate to these families during Independence and Republic Day celebrations.

This apart, RTCs were issued to nine farmers on the occasion.

Earlier, hundreds of personnel from Platoons of the Police, KSRP, Home Guards, Bharat Seva Dal (girls), Excise, Fire & Emergency Services, Scouts & Guides etc., took part in the parade. More than 200 students from Baden Powel School, Maharshi Public School and Pramathi Public School presented attractive cultural programmes.

The first prize in march-past among the armed forces was won by City Armed Police (CAR), while the second and third prizes went to Vijayanagar Police and Home Guards respectively.

Among the unarmed participants, NCC (Army) cadets won the first prize, followed by Excise and Fire & Emergency Services.

In the School division, the first prize was won by Bharat Seva Dal (girls) led by Yashaswini, while Police Public School (boys) led by Rishiraj came second and Jawahar Navodaya Vidyalaya (girls) led by M. Lekhana bagged the third place.

Also, the Parade Commander D. Sharanappa and Reserve Police Inspector Sasanur of KARP, Mysuru, won special prizes.

Abracadabra... Abracadabra...

By K.B. Ganapathy

A retired officer and his Shanti Puja at age 80

Good governance is possible only with such officers

A.K. Shiva Roy, when he was serving as Accounts Officer, MUDA.

Early this morning while having breakfast, my landline phone rang. My wife picked up the handset and said it was from Shiva Roy. Since she knew my acquaintance with him, she asked me if I liked to take the call. "Of course yes," I said and received the cordless phone. After exchanging pleasantries, Shiva Roy said that tomorrow, 27th December, he was having a Shanti Puja in connection with his 80th birthday celebrated on Dec.12, 2018 and he would like me to attend a luncheon party at his farm house on Bannur Road. As I was speaking to him, I recalled an Abracadabra I wrote way back on 4th February 1998 when he retired from service as an Accounts Officer of MUDA.

At a time CITB and its later avatar MUDA was known more for the corruption of its officers and staff and less for their integrity and service to the public. There were only a few honest and hard working officers and staff who could be counted on our fingers. Among them was one shining star, that too in a most important Accounts Department of those days, as its head A.K. Shiva Roy. I was told, those days, every engineer and even administrative staff would feel intimidated by his presence because of his outspoken nature and strict adherence of rules.

It was his instructions to his attendants not to make any one who came to visit him at his office to wait for long. Every visitor's presence should be informed to him immediately so that he could 'manage his time' to give interview to the visitor as quickly as possible.

I was told by one Army Officer of the rank of Lt. Col. that he was lucky to be introduced to A.K. Shiva Roy, the Accounts Officer, before he could meet any other officer in MUDA for resolving a problem related to his site allotted by CITB. His problem: He had got a 60'x40' site from the Army quota through the system of lottery, for selecting the site beneficiary. Thereafter, he went back to his duty at Leh Ladakh. When his local contact went to take the allotment letter, to his shock he was told that the site had been resumed for not making the payment or for some other such reason without any intimation to him. It was then he was advised to contact Accounts Officer A.K. Shiva Roy who helped the Army Officer get his site.

Here below is produced the Abracadabra I wrote when he retired, as mentioned above, under the title 'An Officer Retires.' Now read on...

In these days of vitiated and generally inefficient governmental administration an officer who is a role model is as rare as hen's teeth.

It is unfortunate some officers are efficient only when they are well oiled with bribe. And there are officers who are not efficient even with bribe. And finally there are committed officers who are hard-working and also honest. This last category of officers are often disliked and even mocked at by their own inefficient and corrupt colleagues. Unfortunately, even the higher officers are helpless in correcting this kind of human behaviour and relationship.

A.K. Shiva Roy of the State Accounts Department and former Accounts Officer of MUDA died last Friday (Jan.24, 2025) at age 86 in Mysuru. He was known for his honesty, efficiency and service to people as a government officer. I had written about him in my column (Dec.26, 2018) in appreciation of his service as a role model among government servants. The column I wrote about him when he retired from service is reproduced here as a tribute to his memory. RIP Mr. A.K. Shiva Roy.—KBG

Nevertheless, the idealist officers carry on and some of them even manage to retire from service unscathed and successfully ducking the planted snare of CoD and Lokayukta (remember the recent tragedy of the Chief Drill Instructor Mr. Othageri of Karnataka Police Academy here in city).

One such good officer who retired on 31st January 1998, after serving for 33 years, two months and six days is Mr. A.K. Shiva Roy, the Accounts Officer of MUDA.

I understand he belonged to the State Accounts Department and served MUDA for more than 12 years and had seen 12 or 13 Chairmen preside over MUDA, earlier CITB.

I have known this gentleman officer probably for all of his 12 years service in MUDA and found him a straight shooter and a daunting officer, what with his ramrod mush and a stout physique with a fair complexion and a rotund face. Indeed, a handsome person generally found in Kodagu from where he hails.

I asked him recently who did he think was the best politically appointed Chairman of MUDA. His answer: Mr. Madegowda who came to be known as Mane Made Gowda (of Asha Mandira Scheme). I then asked him who was the best non-political Chairman. His answer was Mr. Muniswamy, the IAS Officer. There was also another officer, Mr. Roy says, in Mr. Vijay Bhaskar. As an Accounts Officer Mr. Shiva Roy's contribution to MUDA was considerable. He was pretty smart in raising funds through auctioning of sites. He had his typical style of rousing the interest of the bidders in the site thereby fetching the highest price. He streamlined the accounts despite the mess. He was also helpful in his advice and guidance to all those who approached him as a last resort of hope. Since he was a high profile officer, I thought he must have been given a grand send-off the day he laid down the office or thereafter. His answer to my enquiry was true to his nature. Quoting a dialogue in Mahabharata, in chaste Kannada, which means, "Never have food in the house of your enemies," he said, he did not want any send-off.

Urged to explain he said, a few years back a clerk in MUDA who was corrupt and indulged in malpractice in the matter of allotment of sites etc., had carried tales to the then MUDA Commissioner (name withheld) saying, 'Sir the MUDA is ruined because of Mr. Shiva Roy' and more. Of course, the message ultimately reached Mr. Shiva Roy who explained the allegation was made because he (Mr. Shiva Roy) tried to curb malpractice and cheating by this ugly clerk. Mr. Shiva Roy then reminded me of the good old Kannada saying ಖಂಡತವಾದಿ ಲೋಕಪರಿಹಾರಿ (the world detests the one who takes a firm stand).

However, his mother department remembered him with as much love as that of a mother when he retired. The State Accounts Department's local Audit Office at Saraswathipuram gave him a send-off eulogising his services to the Department as an outstanding officer.—PUCK.

CM's MUDA 50:50 sites case

Lokayukta Police submits final report to High Court

Report includes audio-video evidence, Forensic Science Laboratory records, hard disks, CDs and pen drives

The HC is reviewing a petition filed by social activist Snehamayi Krishna, who has demanded a Central Bureau of Investigation (CBI) probe into the case.

The case originates from an FIR registered on Sept. 27, 2024, under several IPC provisions, covering alleged offences spanning from 1968 to 2023. The charges include violations of the Prohibition of Benami Property Transactions Act, 1988; the Karnataka Land Grabbing Prohibition Act, 2011; and accusations of cheating, forgery, and criminal breach of trust.

In the previous hearing, the High Court granted the Lokayukta time until Jan. 28 to submit a comprehensive investigation report.

ADGP and IGP supervises

The report, prepared by Udesh under the supervision of Lokayukta Additional Director General of Police (ADGP) Manish Kharbikar and Lokayukta Inspector General of Police (IGP) Dr. A. Subramanyeshwara Rao, reportedly highlights crucial aspects of the case, incorporating statements from over 25 individuals recorded under Section 17A of the Prevention of Corruption Act.

Statements from the accused — including Chief Minister Siddaramaiah (first accused), his wife Parvathi (second accused), her brother B.M. Mallikarjunaswamy (third accused, who gifted the land to Parvathi), and J. Devaraju (fourth accused, who sold the land to Mallikarjunaswamy) — have been recorded.

The investigation, spanning activities from 1994 to 2024, includes evidence such as audio and video recordings, Forensic Science Laboratory (FSL) reports, hard disks, CDs and pen drives. It also incorporates key documents, including RTC records, land conversion papers, ownership transfers and correspondence records.

The case alleges misuse of power and irregularities in land and site allotments, implicating former Commissioners, Chairpersons, Engineers, Urban Planners, MLAs, MLCs and the then Additional Deputy Commissioner. The Court is expected to determine CM Siddaramaiah's role based on the evidence and statements compiled in the report.

Report submitted to Special Court

On Jan. 24, the Lokayukta Police also submitted their report to the Special Court of Elected Representatives in Bengaluru regarding the same MUDA site allotment case involving Siddaramaiah and his wife. The report was submitted ahead of the Court hearing scheduled for Jan. 27 (today).

According to sources, the report was initially planned for submission a day before the hearing. However, since Jan. 25 was a fourth Saturday and a Court holiday, the Lokayukta Police advanced the submission to Jan. 24.

Officials from the Mysuru Lokayukta remained tight-lipped about the report's contents and refused to disclose details. The case stems from the same FIR registered against Siddaramaiah and others on Sept. 27, 2024.

Land conversions, surrender

Following a complaint by RTI activist Snehamayi Krishna, the Special Court directed the jurisdictional Mysuru Lokayukta Police to conduct an investigation.

As per the complaint, a piece of land originally owned by Devaraju was sold to Mallikarjunaswamy on Aug. 25, 2004. The land, initially classified as agricultural, was later converted for non-agricultural use.

On Oct. 6, 2010, Mallikarjunaswamy transferred the land to his sister, Parvathi. Beginning in 2014, Parvathi submitted multiple requests to MUDA seeking compensation for the acquired land.

Subsequently, on Dec. 12, 2021, the then MUDA Commissioner Dr. D.B. Natesh allotted 14 alternative sites on a 50:50 ratio. However, in light of the controversy, Parvathi surrendered all the sites to MUDA on Oct. 3, 2024.

Former District Congress President T.S. Ravishankar passes away

Ravishankar

Mysuru, Jan. 27- T.S. Ravishankar (64), former District Congress President and a resident of Vidyaranyapuram, near T.V. Srinivasrao Circle, passed away following a heart attack in city this morning.

Ravishankar had also served as the President of The Graduates Co-operative Bank, was its present Director and was a member of Karnataka Pradesh Congress Committee (KPCC).

He leaves behind his wife Kamala, sons T.S. Nikhil Tagadur and T.S. Rahul Tagadur and a host of relatives and friends. Last rites will be held on Jan. 29 at the foot of Chamundi Hill, after his sons return from abroad, according to family sources.

City Congress President R. Murthy, District President Dr. B.J. Vijaykumar and other Congress leaders paid their last respects to the departed this morning.

The ED's letter revealed that land denotification for non-agricultural purposes was done without proper reasoning, expert analysis or record review and proceeded without due deliberation.

After writing to the Lokayukta, the ED provisionally attached 142 immovable properties having a market value of Rs. 300 crore under the provisions of the Prevention of Money Laundering Act (PMLA), 2002.

The ED has also sought details of 631 sites from the MUDA authorities. The sites are distributed across Dattagalli, Kesare 1st and 3rd Stages, J.P. Nagar, Vijayanagar, Hanchya-Sathagalli, Hebbal, Srirampura and Vasanthnagar, with site numbers and their respective survey numbers.

The probe agency has sought details of the owners of these sites, their addresses, allotment dates, the areas of the sites, layout maps and other specifics of the listed sites. While some of the sites have been allotted on a 50:50 ratio basis, others have been allotted as compensation on alternative lands.

Online frauds, digital arrest

Mysureans lose over Rs. 1 crore

Mysuru, Jan. 27 (SBD&KS)- In separate cases, online fraudsters, who targeted 3 persons, including an elderly man, have cheated them to the tune of over Rs. 1 crore by luring them with huge profits for investments, only to pocket their money without their knowledge and also placing one of the victims under digital arrest.

In the first case, online fraudsters, who targeted an elderly man, have cheated him of over Rs. 89 lakh. The elderly man from N.R. Mohalla, who was included in Tata Investment Club WhatsApp group by fraudsters, made him invest Rs. 89,62,000. Though the elderly man received some amount of money as profit initially, the profit stopped after a few days, thus cheating him.

In the 2nd case, fraudsters siphoned off Rs. 10,50,000 from the account of a Datta Nagar resident.

In the third case, a young engineer from Gangothri Layout received a call a few days ago and the caller, who identified himself from DHL Express, told him that 200 grams of MDMA narcotic substance was booked in his name and asked the engineer to lodge a complaint at Delhi Division.

The caller then put the engineer on a conference call during which another person told the engineer that a bank account used for money laundering was created in his name illegally and told him that he will be put on digital arrest. The caller then told the engineer to produce an inspection letter from RBI stating that he was not using the bank accounts so that he could come out of the case. The caller also told the engineer to transfer the money in his account to the Department's account for safety.

After threatening the engineer, the caller got a total of Rs. 7,82,000 transferred in phases, thus cheating him.

KPTCL employee killed in accident

Mysuru, Jan. 27 (BCT)- In a tragic accident, K. Bhagya, a Station Assistant Grade 2 employee of Hootagalli Division of Karnataka Power Transmission Corporation Limited (KPTCL), was killed near the Koorgalli bus stop this morning.

The accident occurred while Bhagya was riding her two-wheeler. The accident site, where road repair work was underway, proved hazardous.

Eyewitness accounts suggest that she lost control of her scooter, fell and was fatally run over by a water tanker. She died on the spot. Further details are awaited.

Rare astronomical phenomenon

Students thrilled after viewing six Planets at the same time

Experts Dr. S.N. Prasad, Prof. Mudugodu Krishnamurthy and Chiranjeevi guide the students of CFTRI school to observe the four planets Venus, Mars, Jupiter and Saturn at the same time on Saturday evening. Picture right shows Astronomer Vasanth Hegde demonstrating the rare celestial event at Sri Ramakrishna Vidyashala in Yadavagiri.

Mysuru, Jan. 27 (PM&BCT)- Students were thrilled to witness a rare astronomical phenomenon, observing four planets at the same time — Venus, Mars, Jupiter and Saturn — with the naked eye shortly after Sunset. They also delighted in viewing Neptune and Uranus through a telescope.

During a special planetary observation event held on the rooftop of CFTRI School in Mysuru on Saturday, students, under the guidance of experts, marvelled at the sight of these planets.

The event served as an enriching experience for students and parents, sparking curiosity and spreading awareness about celestial phenomena. While Venus, Mars, Jupiter and Saturn were visible unaided, Neptune and Uranus, which cannot be seen with the naked eye, were viewed through telescopes.

Although the programme was primarily organised for 10th Standard students of the school, enthusiastic students from other grades also participated. Additionally, many parents joined to experience the celestial spectacle alongside their children.

Guidance from educators

The observation was conducted under the guidance of octogenarian and former Principal and Professor of Physics at Regional Institute of Education (RIE), Dr. S.N. Prasad, retd. Professor Mudugodu Krishnamurthy and alumnus of CFTRI School Chiranjeevi.

Speaking to SOM, Dr. Prasad remarked, "The unique feature of today is the simultaneous visibility of four planets. Remaining two, Neptune & Uranus, require a telescope. Such occurrences are not extremely rare; they have happened before and will occur again. Unfortunately, some media and social media platforms exaggerate this as a phenomenon occurring once in hundreds of years," he said, adding his disappointment at the misinformation.

Not a planetary parade

Dr. Prasad clarified that this event should not be termed a planetary parade or conjunction. "These planets are not aligned in a single row. Such alignment is astronomically impossible even in billions of years," he explained.

He emphasised the importance of creating awareness about astronomical events, noting that this phenomenon, though special, is predictable. "Mars is appearing exceptionally bright now because sunlight is directly falling on it. This brightness is a recurring event approximately every two years. Jupiter and Venus are generally bright; however, Venus is often mistaken for a star. Seeing four planets simultaneously is rare but not unprecedented," he elaborated. Besides the planets, several other celestial objects were also shown. Earlier in the morning, all the students of the school had a chance to see the telescopic image of the Sun and the spots on its surface with three different small instruments, set up by the same team.

Venus resembling a half-moon

Astronomer Vasanth Hegde demonstrated the event at Sri Ramakrishna Vidyashala in Yadavagiri on Saturday where he highlighted a distinctive feature of Venus during the observation that was held for a day at the institution. "Through the telescope, Venus resembles a half-moon," he explained.

He said, "The 4 Planets look magnificent to naked eye. However, it is a misconception that such events occur only once in many years or that Planets appear in a straight line. Currently, Saturn & Venus are visible in the west, while Mars & Jupiter can be seen near the east. They are not aligned in a straight line, as some reports falsely claim."

Suttur Jathra: 155 couples enter into wedlock at mass marriage

Mysuru, Jan. 27 (BLU&BS)- A total of 155 couples entered into wedlock at a mass marriage ceremony organised as part of Adi Jagadguru Sri Shivarathreeshwara Shivayogi Jathra Mahotsava at Suttur Sri Kshetra, Nanjangud taluk in the district this morning.

Union Minister Pralhad Joshi inaugurated the mass marriage ceremony in the presence of Suttur Seer Sri Shivarathri Deshikendra Swamiji, Transport Minister R. Ramalinga Reddy, MP Yaduveer Wadiyar, SP N. Vishnuvardhan, Karnataka State Sharana Sahitya Parishat President Dr. C. Somashekar, Veereshwara Punyashrama, Gadag, Seer Sri Kallayya Ajja and other dignitaries.

Among the newly-weds include 84 from Scheduled Caste (SC), 22 from Scheduled Tribe (ST), 22 from Backward Classes, 23 inter-caste, one inter-religion and three specially-abled, totalling 155 couples.

Besides, 17 couples from Tamil Nadu were also a part of the ceremony and one couple who did remarriage.

Speaking on the occasion, Union Minister Pralhad Joshi said, it is indeed difficult to organise the wedding of one couple, but due to the blessings of this land, it has become possible to organise a mass marriage ceremony involving 155 couples.

"Many speak of principles and mass marriages in their speeches, but it is rarely practiced. There is a lack of history and conduct in the country. Amid such a situation, the tradition of Suttur Mutt is continued to be practiced with the blessings of the divine, by imparting education, feeding the needy and teaching spirituality," said Joshi.

The westerners are coming to India to study the heritage and tradition. The significance of setting a history is living amicably without practicing any discrimination of rich and poor. There is a rise in divorce cases among westerners, but in India, the couples prefer to live, despite enduring differences. This is the power of the country, that has set an example for 'Model Couples' to others, said Joshi.

Art of Living (AoL) Founder Sri Ravishankar Guruji said, Suttur Seer Sri Shivarathri Deshikendra Swamiji has spread the essence of Kannada and its pride, not just in Mysuru, Karnataka and the country, but also across the globe.

Minister Ramalinga Reddy said, along with religious activities, mass marriage ceremony is also being conducted at Suttur Mutt. Over one lakh children are provided education and accommodation facilities. It is a good sign that, mass marriage is organised at the Jathra every year while Krishi Mela is being organised for the benefit of farmers, along with several other activities.

WORD OF THE DAY

Opine

Pronunciation: oh-PYNE (Verb)
Meaning: To opine is to express an opinion about something.
Origin: We are not opining—that is, expressing our opinion—when we say that opine is not a back-formation of opinion, though the two words do share a common ancestry. A back-formation is a word formed by the subtraction of part of an existing word; for instance, the verb bartend is a back-formation of the noun bartender. Opine and opinion, however, both entered English independently, taking different routes from their mutual roots in the Latin verb opīnārī, meaning "to have in mind" or "to think." Opinion arrived in the 14th century, while opine followed about a century later.
Example: "Entertainment will always be inherently social. This latest age has prompted society to take a page out of video game culture, which has long relied on building a digital community. We text those we care about after a cliffhanger season finale and jump on social media to opine on the latest movie or show, sharing views on the best scenes or even recording oneself watching an intense scene for posting on social media." —Geir Skaaden, Variety, 28 Aug. 2024.

THE ODD WORD

Pathophobia
Fear of disease.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Piece of Cake

Meaning: The phrase 'Piece of Cake' is used to describe something that is very easy to complete.
Origin: The idea of cake, which is literally a flat, sweet baked item, as being easy, originated sometime during the 1870s, when cakes where often handed out as prizes in cakewalks, which were easy competitions to win. As for the origin of the phrase 'A piece of cake,' Ogden Nash was the first to use it in print when he wrote "Her picture's in the papers now, and life's a piece of cake" in his 1936 work Primrose Path.
Example: "The boy found the project to be a piece of cake because it was incredibly easy."

The singing performances after the stage programme added the cherry on top for the musical evening. Swarapaana’s classical team performed ‘Vande Bharata Mataram,’ a composition of Dr. Sunitha Chandrakumar.

It was wrapped up with the performance of ‘Hosa beLaku,’ a famous song from Dr. Rajkumar’s movie along with the Swarapaana title track.
